

Touch Learning

Posted On Sep 19, Posted by Charity Preston Category Giveaways

This week, I am reviewing Educational Insight's Teachable Touchables Texture Squares . I intentionally chose this product because I have a toddler at home who I thought might enjoy the different textured squares. Well, not only did he like them, he loved them! From the minute I opened the box just to let him play for a few minutes, he was enthralled. Then, when I took them away (I like to take pictures of the materials before they are "kid-abused" with slobber, fingerprints, and the like), he was not a happy camper. So, I knew I had to move fast on this review so he could have his set back to play with permanently! :)

```
google_ad_client = "pub-5594640309563079"; /* 250x250, created 7/29/11 / google_ad_slot = "9541255847"; google_ad_width = 250; google_ad_height = 250; google_ad_client = "pub-5594640309563079"; / 250x250, created 7/29/11 */ google_ad_slot = "9541255847"; google_ad_width = 250; google_ad_height = 250;
```

The Teachable Touchables Texture Squares consist of 20 3-inch squares made of different materials, such as velcro, corduroy, satin, mesh, and more. There are 2 of each square, which makes it super handy for the activities listed on the included activity sheet. They also come in a drawstring fabric bag so cleanup is super easy and they don't get lost. Plus, the bag has a couple examples of the squares embroidered on it, which is super helpful if you have the bag hanging from a peg in a preschool or playroom. Children will automatically know what is in the bag without asking!

The activities listed on this page are available for purchase on the Touch Learning website.
Touch Learning is a small business. Thanks to all who entered!
We are grateful for your support. Touch Learning, The Organized Classroom